Professional Summary

Student in the last year at University of Turin, Computer Science. I've always been passionate about computers and programming. My goal is to always learn as much as possible and help people with my projects. I have knowledge with all kinds of programming languages but I am more interested in the front-end part. I have recently started learning React js and all of its features. I am looking for a junior role where I can learn new things and take part in different projects.

Work Experience

1/02/2022 - 1/03/2022

OSF

It was a month long internship in which we had to recreate an e-commerce website using only HTML5, CSS3, Javascript/Jquery. I had the opportunity to learn and use SCSS. I had to recreate the website based on an FSD file provided by the company and had to use my skills with photoshop and avocode for it.

25/02/2022- 18/03/2022

Assist Software

During this 2 week internship, the participants were divided in teams of 4 and had to create a full stack office space management application. I participated as a front end developer and using my React skills created the website following the designer's project.

Education
